FRAUD IS CHARGED

Sayre Ballot Boxes to be Brought Into Court.

ANOTHER SENATORIAL CHAPTER

Court Has Issued an Order on Reques of Requisite Number of Electors, for the Bringing in and Opening of Ballot Boxes.

Fraud is charged in the primaries held in Sayre borough on Saturday, April 11, and an order has been issued by Judge Fanning for the bringing in of the ballot boxes of the First, Second, Third and Fourth wards of the shop town.

The requisite number of electors presented a petition to the county commissioners setting forth that a fraud was committed in the said wards of Sayre, and asking that a recount be made of the ballots cast at the uniform primaries. The commissioners laid the matter of the electors' petition before the court and an order has been issued commanding William T. Carey and Sereno P. Nelson, justices of the peace of Sayre and custodians of the ballot boxes to bring them into court for opening and recounting of the votes.

Sheriff Griffin served the orders upon Messrs. Carey and Nelson and the ballot boxes are to be brought in and opened at once. D. E. Kaufman and Lilley & Wilson represent Moses Shields, one of the senatorial candidates.

This will add another chapter to the now celebrated senatorial contest, which at present stands 52 in favor of Shields.

In Susquehanna County.

Cross and Shields are both in Susquehanna county, where ballot boxes are being opened and recounts made. The end of the contest is not yet in sight.

BIONDI HELD TO COURT ON MURDER CHARGE.

Italian Will Have to Stand Trial For Killing His Cousin Near Laquin.

Salvatori Biondi will have to stand trial on the charge of murdering his cousin, Louigi Biondi, near Lequin on the night of April 8. He was given a hearing before 'Squire Meredith on Saturday and held to court. It is expected his case will be tried during the first week of May court.

The hearing occupied all of Saturday and was not finished until 11 o'clock Saturday night. District Attorney Mitchell represented the commonwealth, while R. A. Mercur, W. P. Wilson and D. E. Kaufman represented the defendant. All of the Italians who were present and witnessed the killing were placed on the stand and thoroughly examined, every detail of the killing being brought out.

The story of the crime as told at the hearing differs somewhat from the one told to the coroner's jury during the inquest. One important incident in connection with the tragedy which has not already been published in these columns was that Felisha, brother of the murderer, and Luigi, the man who was killed, were scuffling and quarreling, which was an incentive to the shooting, Salvatori taking a hand in behalf of his brother, Felisha. It was also shown that Salvatori did not fire at Luigi until he himself had been shot and wounded in the stomach. These matters will have an important bearing upon the case, as they play a part in establishing the degree of murder, and the probable punishment of Salvatori.

The defendant was present at the hearing and while it was all Greek to him, he being unable to talk or understand English, yet he evinced much concern. He still suffers greatly from the wound in his stomach.

Is Now a Motorist.

C. L. Stewart of York avenue, is now a full fledged motorist. He arrived in Towanda Saturday afternoon with his new Cadilac automobile which he purchased in Wilkes-Barre, and will be among those who enjoy life on wheels in the county seat during the summer. His machine is a neat one, of good power and will carry five persons. George Manville, the well known chauffeur went to Wilkes-Barre and accompanied Mr. Stewart home, they making the run to Towanda in remarkable short time.

SIX LABORERS KILLED

Engine Ran Away on Laquin Lumber Company's Railroad.

DEAD ARE ALL FOREIGNERS.

Engine and Flat Car Dashed Down Steep Grade and Was Derailed—Injured Taken to the Williamsport Hospital on Special Train.

Four foreign laborers were killed outright, two fatally injured and ten others injured to necessitate their removal to the Williamsport hospital by the running away of a locomotive on the Laquin Lumber company's railroad, near Whalen, at 8:15 yesterday morning.

A party of 25 laborers with their baggage were loaded upon a flat car to be transported from one lumber camp to another yesterday morning. The lumber company's large direct-connected engine was detailed for the job, and it was when coming down the steep grade of the Barclay mountain near Whalen that the eccentric pin either broke or worked out and the locomotive ran away down the hill for a distance of about half a mile.

The flying engine and car, with the car in front, struck the derail switch located some 200 feet from the main track, and the car with the men upon it were hurled against the bank. The locomotive did not leave the rails, and as the mass of men rolled from the bank upon the track the ponderous machine plowed through the mass killing and maiming. One of the four killed outright had his head completely severed from his body. The others were badly mangled.

A special train took the injured to the Williamsport hospital. Of the nine or ten not injured badly enough to necessitate hospital treatment, all were more or less bruised. Smith Brothers, the Towanda undertakers, were directed to go to Laquin on the afternoon train with at least six caskets.

None of the locomotive crew were injured in the least, and in a few minutes the locomotive was again in service. The road upon which the accident occurred is owned and operated entirely by the Laquin Lumber company, and runs from a point just beyond Whalen to the top of the mountain near Sunfish pond.

BRADFORD COUNTY HAS A MURDER MYSTERY

ROSS CAPTURED.

Italian Who Jumped Bail in Towanda, is in Custody in Boston.

Chief of Police Miller Sunday night received a message from Thomas Watts, chief inspector of police of Boston, Mass., stating that he had captured and was holding Tony Ross, the Italian shoemaker who recently jumped his bail in Towanda. It will be remembered Ross moved from Owego to Towanda where he opened a shoe shop on South Main street. He had only got nicely located when an Erie detective came to Towanda and caused his arrest on the charge of robbing Erie freight cars at Owego. He was placed in the county jail to await requisition papers, and during the interim was released on bail.

Shortly after getting out of jail, Ross moved his household goods to Monroeton from which place he shipped them to Boston. The Boston police were notified and Inspector Watts went to work on the case and while he was working to a great disadvantage, kept at the task until yesterday when he located Ross among the thousands of Italians in Boston and caused his arrest.

Chief Miller leaves today for Boston and will bring Ross back where he is wanted for jumping his bail. Sheriff Kirk of Owego, was in Towanda one day last week with requisition papers for taking Ross back into New York state, only to find him missing. Ross will be brought back to Towanda where he will be turned over to Sheriff Kirk.

Rain Spoiled Game.

The Towanda baseball swatists went to Ulster Saturday afternoon to practice with the fast Ulsterites, but rain spoiled the tryout. The skies began to leak about the time Ash Parsons, the twirlist, made his appearance in the center of the diamond and it is well for Ulster that it did for the former Bucknell celebrity was as fit as a fiddle and he had vowed to throw some real crooked ones. Mansfield Normal school team will play in Towanda Friday afternoon of this week and in Ulster on Saturday.

Owego's New Industry.

A company has been organized for the manufacture of horse food, to be known as the Owego Horse Food company. They are manufacturing a superior quality of that article, which is being put upon the market, and is meeting with success. The factory will be enlarged as the demand increases. The commodity is put up in drums ranging from 5 to 2,000 pounds and is marketed at prices that are reasonable. J. D. Weed is manager of the company.—Waverly Free Press-Record.

Easter in Towanda.

Easter Sunday was a gloomy day in Towanda, it being dark and dreary with an occasional shower throughout the day and evening. In the churches it was bright enough, however, and as usual the day was most fittingly observed. Special musical programs, all beyond those ordinarily heard in churches in a town the size of Towanda, were carried out. Splendid sermons appropriate to the occasion were also features of the services.

Arbitrators Chosen.

W. F. DeWitt of Troy, Charles H. Saxton of Granville, and J. A. Wilt of Towanda, were Monday chosen arbitrators to hear the case of Henry Updike vs. Welby Updike, at the hall in Gillett, on May 27.

WHO IS THE VICTIM?

Coroner and Jury Say Man Was Murdered and Body Dissected.

WAS BURIED IN QUICKLIME

High Water Washed Away Covering of Lime Before It Could Completely Obliterate Remains—Body is That of White Man Past 35 Years of Age.

A diabolical crime has been committed within a dozen miles of Towanda, and Bradford county has a murder mystery equal to the greatest which in years gone by baffled police and detectives of the great cities.

The famous Guildensuippe murder of New York city which a few years ago was the talk of the civilized world, was not one whit more fiendish and horrible in its detail than is the one brought to light by the finding of the dissected body of a white man, partially destroyed by quicklime in which it had been buried, near the S. and N. Y. railroad bridge at Masontown, between Monroeton and Powell, Sunday evening.

There is not a particle of doubt but what the man was murdered and an attempt made to conceal the crime by the burial of the remains, after dissection, in quicklime, the complete work of obliteration only being prevented by the waters of Towanda creek.

Coroner's Inquest.

Dr. J. C. Lee of Camptown, coroner of Bradford county, was in Monroeton Tuesday, and conducted an inquest. The following were empanelled and sworn as jurors: Dr. T. Ben Johnson, William Young, Anson Lafey, Raymond Jones, Russell Biddle, and Oscar Miller. After viewing the remains and hearing the testimony of Fred Cranmer, the man who made the grewsome discovery, G. H. Smalley, H. R. Smalley, E. J. Cranmer, Dr. O. H. Rockwell, Albert Mingos, and E. R. Booth, the jury rendered a verdict that the man came to his death at the hands of parties unknown.

Post Mortem.

Dr. Lee, assisted by Dr. T. Ben Johnson, conducted a post mortem examination of the remains which satisfied the coroner beyond any doubt that the man was murdered and his body buried in quicklime.

The trunk and other portions of the body was encrusted with quicklime. On the crust of lime covering the right leg, near the thigh where it had been cut off, was a large blood stain. The limbs had been unjointed, and the right pelvic bone, right foot and left arm are missing.

There is enough skin and flesh on the thorax to show that the man was white, and the skull sutures show that he was past 35 years of age.

Literally Slaughtered.

The victim of this horrible crime was evidently slaughtered, literally speaking. The head had been cut or chopped from the body, as were the legs and arms.

Death was evidently caused by a hard blow on the point of the chin, as the skull shows a fracture at the base, and the chin bone is crushed and split, showing that a heavy blow had landed at that point driving back the jaw, fracturing the skull and causing death.

Buried in Quick Lime.

Following the killing it is evident the body was dissected and buried. Where the trunk was found, lime to a thickness of one inch lies in the earth. It was on this bottom that the trunk rested.

The other portions of the body were some distance from the trunk and all were separate, and encrusted with lime. It is evident that the recent high water washed away the covering of dirt and lime, preventing the work of obliteration.

Lonely Spot.

Where the grewsome discovery was made Sunay evening by Fred Cranmer is a lonely place. The remains were found about 100 feet from the S. and N. Y. railroad bridge, on land which during high water is covered by the flood. Some of the witnesses were of the opinion that the body had been carried by water and deposited where it was found, but the bed of quick lime disproves this theory. To prove how secure the body was from discovery, even after it had been uncovered, people traveling across the S. and N. Y. bridge did not notice it lying where it was found. Standing on the bridge a stone can be tossed to where the remains were found. Fred Cranmer, who made the find was walking across the bridge, and meeting a friend stopped to talk. They saw the skull and went down to investigate, their search resulting in the bringing to light of evidence of a horrible murder.

Identification Impossible.

It will be almost impossible to identify the remains, although there is enough left to do so, yet there is no clothing or anything else to indicate who victim was. The quicklime did its work very well. Save the strong smell of lime, no odor rises from the remains.

Suspicious Circumstance.

Monday while the body was being gathered up, a man believed to have been an Italian, came upon the bridge, watched the movements of the men picking up the portions of the body for a few minutes and then hurried away. He was considerable distance from the men, and none of them recognized him. His actions have placed him under suspicion.

A thorough investigation is to be made by the authorities.

TUTTLE FAMILY NOW NEARLY RECOVERED.

Afflicted North Towanda People No Longer Under Doctor's Care.

B. H. Tuttle, wife and eight children of North Towanda, have so far recovered from their terrible seige of illness, that Dr. Charles Reed who has been in attendance made his last visit on Saturday.

The Tuttle case undoubtedly stands without parallel in Pennsylvania. The entire family consisting of father, mother and nine children, were all ill at the same time with scarlet fever. Later three cases of malignant, black diphtheria and two of common diphtheria developed, one of the children became ill with spinal meningitis and died, another of the children had an attack of appendicitis; another a bad case of blood poisoning, and to cap the climax just as the children began to recover from the scarlet fever, diphtheria, blood poisoning, etc., they were attacked with whooping cough which has just now been conquered.

During the time the family was struggling against the terrible visitation and were all ill in bed, they wanted for nothing. The charity and benevolence of the people of North Towanda, Towanda borough and vicinity, will never be fully realized except by Mr. and Mrs. Tuttle and their children.

On his first time out of doors in nearly three months, to Dr. Reed on Saturday, Mr. Tuttle, with tears in his eyes and a voice choking with emotion, said he wished he could find words to express his gratitude to the people, many who were total strangers, for their great kindness to him and his family. "It grieves me," said Mr. Tuttle to think that I am powerless to let the people know our appreciation of their many acts of charity and kindness.

INSTANTANEOUS HEATER IN McQUISTON HOME EXPLODED.

Made Much Noise But Fortunately No One Was Injured.

The residents of North Main street between Mix avenue and Chestnut streets were startled Saturday morning about 9 o'clock by a terrific explosion which shook and rattled every window within a radius of two blocks. The crash was caused by the exploding of an instantaneous water heater in the basement of the McQuiston home on North Main street.

The heater is operated with gas which had been turned off, as had been the water. A member of the McQuiston household went into the basement, to turn on the gas to heat water, and barely a minute had elapsed before there was a terrific crash and the heating apparatus was a wreck. Some of the pieces barely missed the lady who turned on the gas, and fortunately she was not injured.

The heater was readily repaired and the damage resulting from the explosion was very slight.

Historical Society Meeting.

The April meeting of the Historical Society of Bradford County, will be held at its rooms, on Saturday, April 25, at 2 o'clock p. m. After the regular business of the society, J. W. Ingham of Sugar Run, will read a paper giving additional historical sketches of and about Wyalusing, much of which has not hertofore been published. The president will at this meeting announce the committees to examine and award the prizes for the historical sketches or essays which have been written and handed in by the school children of Bradford county, and also to arrange and carry into execution the "Old People's Day," and "Home-coming Day," in June next. J. C. Ingham, president; J. Andrew Wilt, secretary.

During the year ending April 1, the congregation of the Presbyterian church raised over $4,400. This amount was raised outside of the collections and regular dues.

SHIELDS 52 AHEAD.

Opening of Hallstead Ballot Box Discloses Big Error.

PLACES ARE CHANGED AGAIN

Sensational Development in the Senatorial Contest—Cross Credited With Sixty-Three More Votes Than He Received in One Precinct.

Mose Shields of Nicholson, Wyoming county, again leads William Cross of Sayre, in the race for the Republican senatorial nomination. Mr. Cross started the second week of the contest with 11 votes to the good, but ere the daylight had dissolved into darkness, Monday, Mr. Shields again took the lead, having a majority of 52.

How 'Twas.

This is how 'twas. Over in Susquehanna county the correctness of the returns in several districts was questioned by Mr. Cross, and on an order from the court, the doubtful ballot boxes were taken to Montrose, and when the Hallstead ballot box was opened late yesterday afternoon, it was found that Cross had been credited with 63 more votes than he received in that precinct. This cut down his lead in the three counties just 63, and placed Shields on top with 52 for ballast.

There are 12 more ballot boxes in Susquehanna county to be opened and there is no telling what other changes will be made before the week ends.

The chances are that every ballot box in the entire twenty-third district will be opened and an inning played in court before the nomination is finally settled.

Gallant to No Avail.

On Friday night a jury in court at Corning brought in a verdict of "No cause of action" in the Lane vs. Lane case, thereby refusing to grant either Dr. Lane or Mrs. Lane a divorce. On Saturday an interesting correspondence began between the lawyers for the different parties. The doctor gallantly extended to her all courtesy and begged of her once more return to his home, where a hearty welcome awaits her. On the other hand, Mrs. Lane, through her attorney James O. Sebring, refuses Dr. Lane's gallant offer, and tells the doctor that she has no intention of condoning and forgiving his offense or of returning to him. The Lanes are prominent Corning people and their domestic troubles have been quite sensational.

State Road Funds Exhausted.

While in Scranton on Wednesday night en route to Honesdale, State Commissioner of Highways Joseph P. Hunter, stated that the state roads appropriation is all exhausted and it will be impossible to do any more work until the legislature appropriates more money.

The Wilkes-Barre Aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, has organized a base ball club and will enter the league to be composed of teams representing the ten leading Aeries of the state.

Seventeen divorces were handed down by the Lackawanna court Thursday. Twelve women and five men comprised the applicants who were granted separations from their mates.

Bower, Rufus Dever, the three children of Horace Deysher, and the interest of one share each to Samuel Sassman and Mrs. Harriet Dever. The mention of their names in Gilbert's will is a surprise to all the beneficiaries.

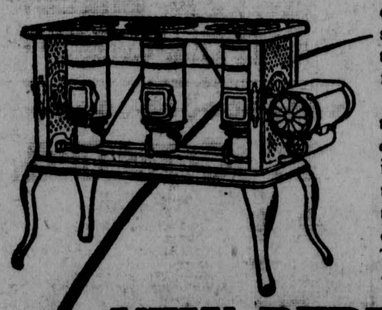
Hot Stove—Cool Kitchen



How do you expect to endure the broiling days of summer if you prepare all the food over a glowing coal fire?

You need a "New Perfection" Oil Stove that will do the cooking without cooking the cook. It concentrates plenty of heat under the pot and diffuses little or none through the room. Therefore, when working with the

NEW PERFECTION

the kitchen actually seems as comfortable as you could wish it to be.

This, in itself, is wonderful, but, more than that, the "New Perfection" Oil Stove does perfectly everything that any stove can do. It is an ideal all-round cook-stove. Made in three sizes, and fully warranted. If not with your dealer, write our nearest agency.

HAD TEN OPERATIONS.

Wellsboro Man Has Established Hospital Record.

S. M. Copp of Wellsboro, who a few days ago left the Williamsport hospital for his home, after undergoing successfully an operation for a malady from which he has long been a sufferer, is a remarkable patient. The operation performed at the Williamsport hospital is the tenth that he has undergone during the past ten years, all for the relief of a trouble the result of a railroad accident with which he met while employed on the Fall Brook railroad.

Mr. Copp was a passenger conductor on the road. During the interval between the time of the accident and the present, time and time again his trouble has re-asserted itself, and operations one after another, in a number of different hospitals, were performed. Mr. Copp is now apparently in splendid health, and the hope is entertained that he will suffer no recurrence.

Is very careful about her churn. She scalds it thoroughly after using, and gives it a sun bath to sweeten it. She knows that if her churn is sour it will taint the butter that is made in it. The stomach is a churn. In the stomach and digestive and nutritive tracts are performed processes which are almost exactly like the churning of butter. Is it not apparent then that if this stomach-churn is foul it makes foul all which is put into it?

The evil of a foul stomach is not alone the bad taste in the mouth and the foul breath caused by it, but the corruption of the pure current of blood and the dissemination of disease throughout the body. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes the sour and foul stomach sweet. It does for the stomach what the washing and sun bath do for the churn—absolutely removes every tainting or corrupting element. In this way it cures blotches, pimples, eruptions, scrofulous swellings, sores, or open eating ulcers and all humors or diseases arising from bad blood.

If you have bitter, nasty, foul taste in your mouth, coated tongue, foul breath, are weak and easily tired, feel depressed and dospondent, have frequent headaches, dizzy attacks, gnawing or distress in stomach, constipated or irregular bowels, sour or bitter risings after eating and poor appetite, these symptoms, or any considerable number of them, indicate that you are suffering from biliousness, torpid or lazy liver with the usual accompanying indigestion, or dyspepsia and their attendant derangements.

The best agents known to medical science for the cure of the above symptoms and conditions, as attested by the writings of leading teachers and practitioners of all the several schools of medical practice, have been skillfully and harmoniously combined in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. That this is absolutely true will be readily proven to your satisfaction if you will but mail a postal card request to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for a free copy of his booklet of extracts from the standard medical authorities, giving the names of all the ingredients entering into his world-famed medicines and showing what the most eminent medical men of the age say of them.

WEAKNESS OF PRIMARY LAW.

Ever since the primary elections, Saturday, April 11, newspapers all over the state have been persistent, and sometimes hysterical, in their attacks upon certain weaknesses in the law.

The law has some weaknesses. The system as a whole was not really an experiment. Its substantial features have been successfully operated and accepted in many other states for several years. Even in a number of Pennsylvania counties nominations have been made for a long time by the direct vote method. In such counties as Lancaster, Crawford, Erie and Tioga that system has proved entirely satisfactory, so that it was not wholly a new thing here.

When all the criticism, suggestions and complaints are summed up, the chief difficulty appears to be that many electors of one party asked for and voted the ballots of another party. This occurrence was quite general. Complaint about it comes from almost every county, and in some counties from almost every district. It is a real objection, but it is one of the things the new law was intended to prevent. It is not a new evil. It existed before under the old system, and when primaries were held on different days by the different parties—as was always the case—it was worse than now, for the voters of both parties voted at both primaries. Not infrequently the vote at a single party primary exceeded that cast by all parties at a general election.

The present primary law sought to reform that by requiring a citizen who is challenged on his party identity to swear that at the last general election he voted for a majority of the candidates of the party whose ballot he asks for. As much of this would not be necessary with any conscientious person. But it seems that this provision fails with those who are scrupulous and willing to take the risk when challenged. And after all the risk is not great, since if a charge of perjury were preferred it would be difficult to prove. If the ballots at the general election were numbered as formerly, proof would be accessible.

In all the suggestions made no really adequate remedy has been presented. It is a matter, however, that will have to be taken into consideration. Something will be expected at the hands of the next legislature, for this interference of the voters of one party in the nominations and affairs of another is intolerable, and is the one thing that is likely to discredit the new system. It has to be acknowledged after a complete trial that in this particular it does not wholly accomplish what was intended.

But it is to be noted with satisfaction that there is no complaint against the principle which the law established. There is general acceptance of and adjustment to a uniform primary day and a direct vote. These suit the people and they will stay.—Philadelphia Press.

Philander Knox would certainly look good in the Presidential chair. He is Pennsylvania's first choice.

All loyal Republicans are ready to support the ticket this Fall. Majority rule is the foundation of Republicanism and it is only reasonable that the rank and file will abide by the decision of the primaries and work for success.

Unfortunately the senatorial contest is still in doubt. Both candidates believe they have a figting chance, and their many friends eagerly await the outcome. Republicans should remain neutral and be ready to support the man who is nominated by the majority of votes. In union there is strength, and while waiting developments just tell yourself over and over again that no matter which man wins you are going to support his candidacy and the entire Republican ticket.

Election returns from the whole district show that Wilt is defeated for congress by 1250 majority. He received a handsome vote in his own county but in the three other counties of the district the vote was heavily against him. In none of these did he have any organization and but few helpers and it was a hopeless fight against superior numbers well organized and led.

The contest was a clean, fair contest and leaves no ugly wounds or bad feeling. Colonel Pratt, the successful candidate, was clearly the choice of a large majority of the Republican voters and the verdict of the primaries will be gracefully accepted by his opponents. A united party and a full vote in November will put the district back into the Republican column by an overwhelming victory. For that result all good Republicans should unceasingly strive until election day.

SUPPORT THE TICKET.

Some Republicans whose intelligence and political experience should make them see the folly of it, are indulging in a great deal of wild and loose talk about the nomination of certain candidates on the Republican ticket—some of them going so far as to say that they will not vote for them. Of course this puerile talk is for the most part the first outburst of disappointment which calmer thoughts will remove. We are sure of this because we cannot believe that fair minded Republicans will so far forget their loyalty to their party principles and the implied pledge to support the ticket which they gave when they participated in the primaries.

It is to be regretted that some of the nominees were not chosen by larger majorities or pluralities for that would have made more clear and impressive what the sentiment of the voters was; but these candidates were selected by the rules and methods of the party and the verdict of one vote, if honestly polled, is as binding to good Republicans as that of a thousand or ten times that.

That any of the successful candidates were unfairly nominated is not charged. The ticket was chosen by a large vote, honestly polled, and must be accepted as a fair expression of the will of Republican electors. It will be accepted as such and will receive the support of all Republicans who believe in majority rule for that is the very corner stone of Republicanism.

Weather prediction: Small gusts of Democratic wind followed by great Republican confidence calm, resulting in the lulling to sleep of Bryan and his followers.

Even China has taken the alarm and will now make an effort to save her remaining forests. She has established a school for forestry, and will make an effort to restore, in part at least, the wooded areas that have been cut away.

Here are some words of Abraham Lincoln which may serve to cheer you if you are despondent: "Do not worry, eat three square meals a day, say your prayers, be courteous to your creditors, keep your digestion good, steer clear of biliousness, exercise, go slow and go easy. Maybe there are other things that your special case requires to make you happy, but, my friend, these I reckon will give you a good lift."

A CHANGE OF OPINION.

If belief in all the old-time dogmas of religion were essential to salvation how many thoughtful mortals would reach the golden shore, asks the thoughtful editor of the Altoona Tribune. Many of the creeds and dogmas have been revised in a formal, official way, or by relaxation of rules through common consent. There are fairly good brothers and sisters who believe it is a sin to play a game of marbles. Thousands of good Methodists and others have gone to their graves believing that the fiddle is an instrument of the devil, that dancing is wholly sinful, and that no novel reader can enter heaven. It has not been long since many good people believed, or thought they believed, in infant damnation. Why should not more men revise the religious creeds and amend the religious dogmas? Mere men made them. Surely they have authority to repair or amend or change that which they have made. There is as much authority for believing in one case as in the other.

The New York Tribune thus notes a recent religious incident: "Many an old-time Methodist is grieved by the action of the New York conference in voting to expunge the ironclad article in the Methodist Episcopal Book of Discipline forbidding church members to play cards, dance, attend a theatre or watch a horse race. And yet we have no doubt that the conference has expressed the sound judgment of the vast majority of the churchmen represented by its delegates. It has simply placed the burden of moral responsibility where it belongs, upon each individual. As several prominent clergymen have hastened, somewhat needlessly, to point out, the abrogation of the article would not imply the encouragement or even the justification of any of the practices heretofore prohibited. It would mean that the general conference recognized the futility of laying down cut and dried rules of conduct for intelligent persons. The attitude of such a large body of representative churchmen is a fresh indication of the rapidly growing moral sensitiveness of Americans. It is becoming clear that the right and wrong of card playing, dancing and theatre-going can be determined only by a consideration of the attendant circumstances in each particular case. Sweeping dogmatic prohibitions not only fly in the face of reason but fail to control the action of those on whom they are enjoined."

The New Jersey commission appointed last year to report on the advisability of retaining capital punishment in that state has reported. "For particularly revolting and heinous crimes," say the commissioners, "involving in their perpetration a great degree of moral wrong, it does not seem wise or sound as a matter of state policy to entirely abolish the death penalty." Evidently that commission believes that more than the crime of murder deserves punishment.

The young farmers, who threw up farm jobs that gave them $25 to $30 a month cash, with good board and lodging, and go to the towns to work for $20 to $40 a month, and board and lodge themselves, are now out of work in the towns by the scores of thousands. Besides being out of work, they are out of money. They will now get an inside view of city life. Probably many of them will be glad to return to the country and resume the sane work of tilling the soil.—New York Farmer.

Describing the opening of the new tunnel under the Hudson river, M. Stephane Lauzanne, in a cable message to The Matin, observes that the tube under the river cost $90,000,000 and was built in eight years by 6,500 men. He inquired of one of the high officials present how much time would be saved by the tunnel: "It will be an enormous saving," was the reply; "passengers will gain nearly ten minutes." "All the difference between the Old World and the New," reflects M. Lauzanne, "lies in that reply. In America they spend £14,000,000 to save ten minutes; in France we would not spend £14 to save a day."

"God bless the man who first invented sleep," said wise old Sancho Panza. But The Lancaster Examiner thinks "there is another inventor that deserves equal praise. The world has never learned the name of the genius who conceived the idea of spreading butter upon his bread, a combination of food elements more palatable, more wholesome and more universally popular than any that the combined wisdom of all the professors who have ever lived has been able to devise. Mark Twain once proposed erecting a monument in honor of Adam. A good idea; but one equally deserving such an honor is he who first gave the world buttered bread."

PRIMARY SUMMARY.

Votes Polled by Candidates Not in Tabulated Form.

GRIFFIN HIGH MAN OF DEMOS.

Wilt Carried Bradford County By Exactly 2300, While Foyle Defeated Hoffman by 76—Legislative Race a Close One.

The official returns as shown in the adjoining table and the following summary, shows some interesting facts. J. Andrew Wilt carried Bradford county over C. C. Pratt by exactly 2300 majority, Pratt's majority in the district is exactly 1,250. William Foyle, according to the official figures defeated G. M. Hoffman by 76 votes. John H. Dean had the largest majority of any of the aspirants for contested offices. The Legislative race was a very close one as the official figures show.

On the Democratic ticket, Job Griffin, the present sheriff, for county commissioner led his ticket. There were very few socialist ballots cast, and less prohibition than in a long time.

Jesse L. Schoonover, a well known Towandian, received 87 votes for county commissioner on the Democratic ticket. Mr. Schoonover was not a candidate, but friends to the number of 87 wrote his name on the ballots.

The Democrats had no candidate for coroner, but Dr. T. Ben Johnson, Jr., the Republican candidate received a number of Democratic votes, so his name will appear on both Republican and Democratic tickets for the November election.

There were no end to straggling votes, that is electors writing in the name of friends for whom they wished to cast a ballot. It required more time to check and canvass the straggling vote than it did the regular.

Following are the official figures of votes polled by candidates not included in the adjoining table:

THE ROD.

The Pennsylvania School Journal, the official organ of the Public Schools, in a late number comes out positively against the use of the rod or ruler by saying:

"The frequent recurrence of agitation for a return to corporal punishment reveals a deplorable lack of understanding of the true approaches to the child's heart on the part of those supposed to be expert in educational matters. It seems incredible that one who has studied children and followed faithfully the development of educational matters as presented in professional periodicals should still have any argument left for a return to the rod. The self-sufficient teachers are responsible for the frightful waste of thought about topics that were settled long ago. The last words concerning the infliction of physical pain in common schools were spoken by Judge Lindsley. The principle of his plan has had a thorough trial in various parts of the country, and invariably the results have been in favor of sympathetic gentleness as against cold harshness."

Nevertheless, remarks The Altoona Tribune, the editor of The School Journal is hardly wiser than Solomon. You have your choice between the editor and the wise man as to "tanning" boys and girls who seem to be very much in need of it.

The crop of babies in New York city is rapidly increasing. During the first three months of this year the number of births in the city was 32,655, an increase of 3,361 over the record for the same period last year. The death rate for three months was 18.43 per thousand, a lower average than for any year during the last decade. At the same time things in Paris are different. There the birth rate is decreasing. During the three months just ended the number of marriages in New York was only 9,557, a decrease of 2,195 as compared with the first three months of last year. It is thought this drop was caused by the depression of business.

The legitimate advertiser ranks as high as a doctor or lawyer or the professor in a university. Why? Because people have come to know that the best articles for their uses are those advertised. They realize that an article of merit is guaranteed by the amount of money expended in putting it on the market. No manufacturer of shoddy or inferior products can afford to put thousands of dollars into a rathole. He cannot afford to build up a trade-mark fame upon that which will not stand the test.

The farmer does not always get the worst end of the stick. He now gets his mail delivered to his private box at his home without expense, while village people have to pay from $1 to $3 for the privilege of going to the postoffice and getting theirs from a private box.

PUPILS IN COUDERSPORT SCHOOL MUST KEEP CLEAN.

Miss Mathilda Reidy, the Teacher, Has Controversy With Italians.

A news dispatch from Coudersport, in the neighboring county of Potter, says: "Because Miss Mathilda Reidy, teacher of the tannery school below town, insisted that one of her pupils, an Italian boy, should wash his feet, caused her to have one of the most trying experiences of her life, and she has had many experiences since taking charge of the school at that place.

"Miss Reidy, who for some time has had at the school a wash dish, soap and towels, which almost daily she has used in washing the hands and faces of her pupils, told the youngster that he would have to wash his feet in the school room. This he refused to do. Then she took him across her knee, and with a piece of rubber hose, punished him. The lad upon being released, made a dash for the door and ran, crying, to his home. Within a short time, his mother and father, who had been summoned from the tannery and also several other excited Italians visited the school, and all began talking at once to Miss Reidy. They finally left. Miss Reidy does not know whether or not she has seen the last of the affair. She is not, however, at all afraid of the consequences and proposes to continue her battle for cleanliness among the scholars."

FACING PENITENTIARY, SCRANTONIAN WEDS.

Goes to Binghamton and Marries Miss Hattie Woodward.

Carl Howe, the Scranton youth who a week ago was convicted of assaulting Madeline Patterson, a neighbor, and who was to have been called for sentence Wednesday morning, took a long chance Saturday last immediately after court continued the passing of sentence upon him to permit his counsel to argue reasons for a new trial. He went to Binghamton in the afternoon and there was married to Miss Hattie M. Woodward. Rev. L. A. Ferris of the Tabernacle church officiated.

Howe was forced to cut out the honeymoon to appear in court. His lawyer, R. H. Holgate, has 26 reasons to show why the verdict of the jury should not be set aside and the case retired. The extreme penalty for Howe's alleged offense is fifteen years.

Profitable Popularity.

Once upon a time the biggest man in the mercantile field in any given community was sure to be the man who had the largest circle of personal acquaintances. That was before the days of newspaper advertising. It was when word-of-mouth solicitation was the only form of persuasion known to the vendor. The volume of his sales grew in proportion with his ability to get into social contact with more people—and it necessarily grew slowly. Nowadays the daily newspaper does the merchant's hand-shaking for him. Through its columns his name and his store become familiar to more in one month than his forefathers could cultivate in a lifetime. The successful modern business man may not know personally a hundred of his customers; but for every one he knows there may be a thousand, or ten thousand, who know him, and contribute to his income. They are the permanent assets he acquires through publicity. Let The Review make and keep you acquainted with its clientele.

Enlarging His Mirror.

The New Albany Mirror, that spicy, interesting newspaper published in New Albany has been enlarged, and is now more attractive and interesting than ever, which is saying some. Here is what Editor Taylor says about it himself and he ought to know as he is right on the job: "The Mirror has enlarged its borders or frames so to speak. Since the installation of new machinery the room we have occupied became altogether too small for convenience, so on April 1 we took possesion of the rooms over our main office and have spread out our Mirror polishing apparatus considerably thinner. Considering the money stringency and the husky dryness of the town, our business is prospering very nicely."

In Memory of Dr. Corr.

Charles Dietrich, the tombstone dealer, selected a marble slab from his stock, had it appropriately letterred and erected at the grave of Dr. John Corr, the eccentric nomad who died homeless and without kin a short time ago. Mr. Dietrich modestly disclaims any credit for his act but we have an idea that a record of such deeds is kept somewhere.—Tunkhannock Republican

Northrup Pitched Good Game.

Howard Northrup of Monroeton, a student at Bucknell, accompanied the University baseball team to Annapolis Saturday and pitched a fine game of ball against the Naval Academy team at that place. SPOTTED SALAMANDER.

Reptile Found at Green's Landing Sent to State Zoologist.

George Fay while working in his garden at Green's Landing Wednesday morning found a spotted salamander, which he captured alive and sent to Professor H. A. Surface, the State economic zoologist at Harrisburg.

The habitat of the spotted salamander is Central Europe and it is very rarely found in this country. It is a dark olive green covered with bright yellow spots, and is about 13 inches long. The salamander which is a member of the lizard family is one of the most poisonous of reptiles, the saliva retaining its poisonous qualities even when dried to powder. As the reptile was still in a dormant state, not yet having woke up from its winter sleep, Mr. Fay was able to capture it without running any risk of being poisoned.

Ralston Youth Injured.

Wiliam Tompkins, aged 16 years, of Ralston, was taken to the Williamsport hospital Tuesday by Dr. J. L. Mansuy. He met with an accident at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon in which he sustained a slight fracture of the skull, a badly bruised shoulder and contussions of the head. He was knocked off the Northern Central railroad bridge crossing Lycoming creek, and fell through between the beams into about six feet of water. He would have drowned had not there been eye witnesses to the accident who rescued him forthwith. Dr. Mansuy was called and found that while there was a fracture of the skull, yet this injury was not dangerous, and the boy was kept at his home until Tuesday morning, when he was taken to the hospital by the physician. He will recover.

On Wednesday afternoon of last week James Carr, an employee in Johnson's mill, sawed off the end of his left thumb on the rip saw. Dr. Inslee dressed the injured member. This machine has a record of injuring more men than all others combined.—LeRaysville Times.

STATE ROAD WORK IN BRADFORD COUNTY.

Wyalusing and Canton Are the Points of Activity at Present.

Says the Wyalusing Rocket: "Deputy Highway Commissioner W. G. Ensign of Harrisburg, and State Engineer Jackson, who has charge of the work of the department for this section of the state, were in Wyalusing last Wednesday arranging for the final work preparatory to the letting of the contract for the state road in this borough and the piece across the creek to the depot.

"In the evening they met the Business Men's association at the council rooms, and after explaining how much better brick paving for the business part of the borough was over the macadam, and also explaining the extra cost to the borough of the brick, the association unanimously voted to request the borough council to ask for the brick pavement for the street from the creek bridge 16 feet wide to Main, where the width should be 40 feet, to Larkin's store, and 22 feet wide up Taylor avenue for the balance of about 900 feet. The extra cost to the borough for all this improvement over macadam would be about $2,000; the macadam for the full width of the above streets costing the borough about $1,000 extra.

"It is proposed by a part of the council that the property owners on these streets pay one-fourth of the extra cost of the improvements, the balance to be paid out of the borough taxes. On this basis an owner of a property having 20 feet front on Main street would have to pay about $10.64 as his share of the extra cost; an owner with 50 feet front on the street would be compelled to pay $26.60. Taking out the amount thus raised the cost to the borough of the brick pavement as mentioned would be about $2,300. The council held a special meeting Tuesday evening to decide upon the matter of brick laying, the width it will be laid on the above streets, the allotting of the extra expense, etc., at which time the borough's attorney, William Maxwell, Esq., of Towanda, was present to untangle any knotty legal points for the borough solons.

"One very important item to the taxpayers in state road repairs is the fact that the state will pay three-fourths of the expense of maintaining these roads after they are built up to $300 per mile each year, or practically almost the entire cost of keeping the roads in perfect condition."

Large gangs of men arrived in Canton this week and work is progressing rapidly on the State roads which were begun last year and it is said the work will be completed by July. The roads extend about one mile east and west from the Canton borough line and will include Main and Troy streets with portions of Center and Minnequa avenue, and it is said that Main street from Center to Troy will be paved with brick.

SPLIT-LOG WORK IS CUTTING DOWN TAXES.

Mifflin Township, Lycoming County, Wil Reduce Road Tax Next Year.

Says the Williamsport Sun: "The board of supervisors of Mifflin township, Lycoming county, have joined in a communication of commendation to Secretary Gibson of the Lycoming County Good Road association, concerning the split-log road drag and its achievements upon the roads of that section. So pronounced has the benefit already been that Smith Lovell, one of the members of the Mifflin township's board, expresses it as his opinion that by next year a four mill reduction can be made on the road tax of the township.

"Christian Siegel, chairman of the board, adds his testimony to the effectiveness of the work done by the drag. He declares that with the proper attention and the use of the drag at such times as is known to be best, better work can be done than by old methods, and at half the expense."

Commenced Operations.

Whipple Brothers have commenced excavating for the Good Will Fire company building which will be erected between Michael's drug store and Hotel McSweeney. The building will be 33x60 feet, two stories and basement, concrete foundation, the building to be brick veneered. The first story will be divided by a partition and a room for council and firemens' meetings will be provided in the rear on the West side. The second story will be used as a hall. The price for the building is $3,400. The fact that Whipple Brothers have the contract is an assurance that the building will be first class in every particular and probably the finest building for firemen in this section of the state.—Laceyville Messenger.

Improvements at Mansfield.

The contract for the mason work on the new wing of the Mansfield Normal school building at Mansfield has been given to John Coughlin of Watkins, N. Y., who will begin work at once with a dozen Watkins masons. The new wing is to be 116x63 feet, six stories high and will cost $80,000. It is to be of brick and the mason work part of the contract will amount to nearly $25,000.

TROUT STREAMS STOCKED.

Four Cans of Trout Fry Placed in Bradford County Brooks.

The Bradford County Fish Protective association last week placed four cans of trout fry in the South branch of the Schraeder and Deep Hollow brook, both famous Bradford county creeks. The four cans contained several thousand of the speckled beauties each measuring about three quarters of an inch. The fry came from the state hatchery at Pleasant Mount.

The Fish Protective association is taking an active interest in the work, and propose to have the waters which flow through Bradford as bountiful with game fish as possible. Later in the season bass fry from both the state and national hatcheries will be received and the Susquehanna river will be stocked for a distance of five miles with Towanda as the central point of distribution.

Found Egyptian Coins.

Henry Gaylord of Mansfield, is the happy possessor of four Egyptian coins which he dug from the ground while at work South of the Normal school. The coins are of silver, about as large around as the American half dollar, but much thinner. On one side is a representative of the Sphinx and the Pyramids, and some hieroglyphics that will necessitate the services of an Egyptian scholar to unravel, while on the other side is an idol, an Egyptian maiden, two fishes, an urn and some more hieroglyphics. Although long buried the coins are in excellent state of preservation, and doubtless there is an interesting story back of them.

Girl's Name Restored.

Judge Hart at Williamsport Thursday heard and granted a petition in a rather unusual case. Twelve years ago, when she was five years old, Mary Harrison of Williamsport, was adopted by Geoorge T. McCurdy of Glenside, near Philadelphia, and assumed the name of McCurdy. Recently she expressed a desire to return to her father, William M. Harrison, and resume her family name. Mr. McCurdy joined in the petition that by Judge Hart's decree dissolves the adoption, and the young woman is now with her father.

Mr. Newell has not yet completed his plans for the future.

An item was printed in Monday's Review concerning the turkey, and Anson Coroner living on the Tompson farm three miles or more from the Lines place, read about the missing bird and immediately communicated with the owner saying that the turkey had strolled into his yard and had been given a home.

HOWE GETS TWELVE YEARS.

Scranton Youth Faces Long Term in the Penitentiary.

Life's kinetoscope unreels scenes strange and many-tinted views for Carl Howe a Scranton youth. Married Saturday when a spell at least of happiness should have started, he was called Wednesday from the rosy view of life to face blackness—a sentence to the penitentiary for twelve years, the measure of his crime. And he's got to take it if the superior court should fail to heed his plea for another trial.

Convicted on a charge of assaulting Madaline Patterson, the sixteen years old daughter of George Patterson, a tipstaff in the Lackawanna court house and a neighbor of the Howes in La Plume, the defendant appeared in court Wednesday morning for his punishment. His bride of three days was not there. It was not her fault that she wasn't. She intended to, but the ordeal was too much. She collapsed on the way to the railroad station, and while friends carried her back home Howe continued on to court, not to see her again, perhaps, for many years.

Ten Troopers Will Help Police Preserve Order in Shop Town.

A squad of ten of the State police arrived in Sayre Wednesday about 10:30 o'clock. They left Wyoming at 4:30, and unloaded their horses at the Lehigh stock yards about 11 o'clock. They rode down town around to the Lehigh station, and then all went to the Park hotel where they will be quartered as long as they stay in Sayre.

The commander of the squad is Sergeant Edward Grubgeld, and the nine men under his command are John Ryan, C. H. Booth, J. T. Monghan, Joseph Shearer, William Clark, Henry Herlichkar, Stanley Siewell, William Halba and Fred White. They came with their full equipment, and how long they will stay here depends upon the circumstances.

Four of the troopers were in Towanda for a week last September, and did patrol duty on the fair ground during the fair. The sergeant in charge of the squad informed Sayre people yesterday that he and his men were there to do police duty and preserve order, and that strikers, strikebreakers, citizens and every one else would be treated alike.

BRADFORD COUNTY GIRL WRITES FROM PORTO RICO.

Miss Frances M. Hulslander Tells of Sunday Schools in West Indies.

The following letter telling the interesting story of "A Sunday School Among the Hills of Porto Rico," was written by Miss Frances Hulslander, daughter of Mrs. M. F. Hulslander of Burlington, who is in Uncle Sam's new possessions in the Far East:

As we came up the Adjuntas road on our arrival in the Island of Porto Rico, about seven miles from Ponce, up the beautiful hills we came to a barrio, Corral Viejo. Here are some little grocery stores and a few palm-thatched shacks near the road. Can we call them houses? The women are sitting or lying on the floors; the children dressed in sunshine are rolling in the dust. But here is a different sort of building from the rest; a neat little frame building, newly painted, a tower and a bell. Ah, just above the door we read "Iglesia Bautista." This is one of our 24 Baptist churches, but where are the people who make up the congregation? "Oh," said the general missionary, "the hills are full of them." The next day was Sunday and we found this to be true.

With a great deal of interest and curiosity we went to the little chapel and watched with wonder as the little tots came trooping in. Surely they did not come from these rude, bare shacks with the pigs and chickens around the doors. Yes, but with clean faces, clean clothes, some with shoes and some naturally shod, but all bright and happy to be among the living.

As they came in, one little boy particularly attracted my attention. He stole in so quietly, so devoutly, sat down near the front of the church, and for several minutes, with head reverently bowed in his hands, prayed so earnestly. This is Ventura, a bright boy about 15 years old, who, with three others, was baptized from the Sunday school last year.

The bell rings, a Porto Rican young man takes his place at the desk and opens the Bible; a young girl sits down to the little organ; a hymn announced and a hundred voices are lifted in joyful praise, "Yo Confio en Jesus," (Jesus Paid It All.) After the opening exercises the classes take their places, with a native teacher at the head of each. Surely, you will say, this is an independent school, and so it is. I went into the primary room and listened to the lesson taught by a girl but 15 years old. It was certainly wonderful to see her stand before those 50 little ones and without book or note, tell the lesson story, commanding the attention of every child from youngest up, impress upon them the important truths, and then by careful questioning, get the story from them. She but a child herself and teaching like one of years' experience.

Another interesting character is a young man about 20 years old, assistant superintendent and teacher of one of the men's classes. I am told that, but a few years ago he was not able to read a word. He has since, having become a christian, learned to read and every point in his Sunday school lesson he knows perfectly.

Dominating the whole school is that spirit of zealousness. A ray of light has streamed into a darkened soul and the Day Star has arisen in a benighted heart. It is hard for us, who have all our lives been surrounded by that light, to understand what it means to a people who have been reared in ignorance and superstition. As I note the fervor with which they search the scripture, their reverential worship, it brings to my mind the story of a man with whom my father was associated in a hospital. He had been blind for 30 years, had not seen a ray of light. He cried out for joy and when the bandages were put on, he begged the doctor to remove them but for a moment that he might know that he could see. In the morning long before any stir was allowed in the institution, he was up singing with all his might. When asked to keep quiet he said he could not, he was too happy.

How much greater is the spiritual darkness in which these people are enveloped; the terrible bondage of sin by which they are held captive and can we wonder that, as they study the precious Word, they cry out for joy, "I never read it before."

Some months have passed since that first Sunday's impression of our school. The department which has completely captivated my interest is the class of young ladies. How much those girls need sweet christian influence and fellowship. There is every tendency downward and, outside of christianity, nothing to elevate.

We say the people are ignorant, but it is not because they are incapable of learning, but rather because of the hand of oppression that has kept them down. There are a number in the school whom we look at and say: "She must have a chance of an education. What an excellent Bible woman she will make." And another, "He longs to be a minister of the gospel. He must be educated."

Recently the school gave an entertainment, and I have never heard a more interesting program nor more successfully rendered in our churches at home. How it made our hearts thrill with joy and gratitude at the manifestation of the power of the gospel. The platform was converted into a perfect bower by means of great branches of the Royal Palm with beautiful roses and tropical wild flowers. How sweet the children looked as they stood beneath the over-hanging boughs and sang and recited the love of a Christ who loved them and gave himself for them. One little boy recited without hesitation the seventh chapter of Matthew. He, by the way, is a candidate for baptism.

The school is constantly growing in membership and interest, and we were this week speaking of the necessity of a larger church building.

SALVATION ARMY WORKERS NEED HELP IN TOWANDA.

Self Sacrificing Work Being Carried on by Ensign Mars and Wife.

Ensign and Mrs. James Mars, officers in charge of the Salvation Army work in Towanda, desire to bring the work of the Army before the public more plainly. An officer in the Salvation Army is not paid for his work, that is no salary is guaranteed. They must pay all debts connected with the work before they can draw any salary, rents of their buildings, fuel, lights, etc. These current expenses must be paid out of the voluntary contributions. Wherever officers are sent to carry on the work, the public is asked or looked to to contribute towards the support of that work locally, just the same as it was in olden days. The question has arisen among the people, "What is done with all the money that is taken up?" The money that is collected is not sent away as there is not enough to cover the current expenses. This last week the collections amounted to $1.68. The purpose of the Army is to force the claims of God for love and service upon all who have forgotten Him, and to train all its converts to regular toil for the spread of the gospel. Meetings are held nightly, besides visitation which the Army calls for 18 hours per week; 15 minutes is the limit to be spent at any place except in case of sickness. We visit all hours night or day, and are at the service of the people to help spiritually and also with food and clothing when we are able to do so.

We have spent two years in Towanda. We averaged one week's full salary, $18, since we have been here. We now put our work and need before the public to ask your aid at this time. Again the Army, as once a year issues a mission call for finance to spread its work in mission fields. The Army in Towanda has been at such a low ebb that it takes all they can collect to support its own work here. Ensign and Mrs. Mars make a strong appeal to the public to help with this soul saving work. Your contribution can be sent to Ensign Mars or given to Mr. Turner at the drug store.

Thanking you in advance, I am yours to serve,

ENSIGN MARS.

Prohibition Convention.

The Prohibition State convention which will be held in Sayre on May 27 and 28, will hold its sessions in Eighmey's hall during the day, and evening sessions will be held in the Methodist church. During the day the crowds will not be so large, but that the hall can accommodate them, as the delegates will probably be the only ones at those sessions, but in the evening when many others besides the delegates will be present the church will be used. A number of the state speakers will be present, and one of the best men in the United States will be secured for the Thursday night session.

Stull—Harding.

MECHANICAL COW MILKER.

Tests at State College Show That Automatic Dairymaids Are Alright.

These are progressive days, and the Pennsylvania farmer has not been standing idly by while the business and professional world have been moving forward. Latest of the inventions that is working would-be benefit to the dairymen is a patent cow milker that has been tested successfully at State College's school of agriculture.

The contrivance is not a product of the last year, but it has been put to a practical test within the last 12 months at State College by Prof. I. T. Mairs, head of the department of animal husbandry ,assisted by a class of aspiring farmer students.

There are six good reasons why a mechanical cow milker is worth while, according to the results of the experiments: One operator can milk more cows in the same time with less effort with a machine than by hand; in general, cows are milked cleaner by the automatic apparatus; there is no variation in the output; there is no injury to the animal; the cows remain healthy; the quality of mlik from each cow remains constant.

These mechanical milkers are operated by a vacumm pump, which in the State College experiment was run by an electric motor. Each machine milks two cows at a time into a bucket. In the operation of the milker a tread-power or gasoline engine might be used quite conveniently.

Ten cows were selected from the State College herd with the idea of determining the relative quality of the milk of each animal. During four weeks the cows were milked by hand and then for the same length of time they were milked by the machine. With the exception of two cows, all were milked equally as clean with the machine as by hand.

From observation it was seen that machine milking was as comfortable for the cow as hand milking. In order to compare the flavor of machine milk with that drawn by hand samples were taken at regular intervals from the milk of each cow and tested. It was impossible to find any difference in flavor between machine drawn and hand drawn milk.

Results are of prime importance to the dairymen of Pennsylvania, compelled, as they are, to get their wagons on the street by sunrise if they are to catch the trade of the great mass of working men who leave their homes before the hour hand reaches 7 o'clock. For with them speed means money, and it is to meet their needs that mechanical milkers have been devised.

THREATS TO MURPHY.

New York State Democrats May Bolt the Fall Convention.

New York, April 21.—The protest of Democrats all over the state against the methods of Murphy and Conners in grabbing arbitrary control of the state committee is to be carried through the September primaries and into the regular state convention in the fall, which will nominate a full state ticket.

Threats were made that if Murphy and Conners in the regular convention in the fall resorted to the tactics they adopted at Carnegie hall last week there would be a bolt and an opposition state ticket in the field. A state committeeman from up the state who was thrown out last week said:

"No matter what Murphy and Conners do or try to do at the fall convention, they did enough last week to insure the defeat of the party in the state at the polls. It may not be necessary to put up a third ticket."

One feature of the situation created by Murphy and Conners is that the state committee, under the rule adopted at Carnegie hall, is really a self perpetuating body, the members as a whole having the right not only to fill vacancies, but to elect their own successors. This is one point that is especially exasperating to up state Democrats. Under the new system the delegates of a senate district would waste their time electing a member of the state committee unless they elected the man picked out for them by Murphy and Conners.

The formal call for a conference to decide upon a general plan of protest has been sent out. It is called to meet in Utica on Saturday of this week. The notice is signed by Edward E. Coatsworth of Buffalo, Charles F. Rattigan of Auburn and Samuel A. Beardsley of Utica. Copies have been mailed to prominent Democrats in some thirty counties, in all of which there is more or less revolt against Murphy and Conners.

The men who planned this move were careful to make it clear that they are not planning a bolt from the party. It is not their purpose to hold a state convention for the election of a contesting delegation to Denver.

China Thinks Mikado's Move Hostile.

Pekin, April 21.—Announcement that a Japanese squadron of fifteen battleships, cruisers and destroyers is to visit Fuchau, Amoy and Canton, China, is accepted in government circles as a distinctly hostile move on the mikado's part. The visit is unsolicited, and the Japanese explanation that it is purely friendly is not heeded. Officials interpret it as a demonstration to the Chinese of what they may expect unless a speedy halt is called on the anti-Japanese boycott. General opinion is that it will have the opposite effect. Considerable uneasiness is even felt lest attempts be made to blow up the visiting ships.

Governor Willson After Night Riders.

Frankfort, Ky., April 21.—Governor Willson has decided to take more vigorous steps to bring night riding to an end. He has ordered Brigadier General Roger D. Williams of Lexington to report to Murray and take charge of the troops.

The prosecuting witness in the damage suit against the city was giving in his testimony.

"Now, then, Mr. Bleedem," said his lawyer, "you will please tell the jury where you were injured."

"On my knee, in my feelings and right in front of the city hall," rapidly answered the witness, fearing an objection on the part of the other attorney.—Chicago Tribune.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

In Use For Over 30 Years.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

WILL MEET NEXT WEEK.

Next Wednesday, April 22, the special national convention of the National Protective Legion will be held in Buffalo. The same delegates will attend who represented their legions at the last regular convention, also held in Buffalo.

The exact methods used by the national officers and Actuary Abe Landis in figuring the $113.58 dividend declared for policies maturing in 1908 will be explained to the convention. Action will be taken then by the delegates.

At the headquarters in Waverly it is expected confidently that the $113.58 rate will be approved. If not, it is said the dividend for 1908 will be somewhere in the neighborhood of $75.

In spite of the heavy reduction in dividends—$250 formerly was paid—and the caustic criticism of the N. P. L., it is said that over 1,200 policies were written in Class B in the month of March.

The careless hired man, even if obtainable at boy's wages, is the most expensive proposition that a man can have on his farm.

It is well to remember that, as a rule, weeds exhaust the fertility of the soil in just as large measure as do the crops which may be grown thereon.

If the orchard is doing business—filling baskets and barrels at harvest time—it should be fertilized just as should the corn and oat field or potato patch.

While a horse trader may be honest, there is presumptive evidence that if he is consistently so he cannot stay in the business any great length of time.

In one district in the state of Washington straw has been used very effectively on the highways in overcoming the difficulty encountered with mud and dust.

Perhaps eaves properly adjusted on the yard side of the big red barn will prevent the place from becoming a nasty mire during the rainy months of the spring.

The granger who will sell filthy cream to the creamery or addled eggs to the groceryman has no kick coming if he should find water and sand in the sugar or worms in the prunes.

It is a good idea to wage an effective rat and mouse campaign up to the 1st of May and then give the birds full sway by shipping the old tabby and her multicolored litter over into the next township.

Much butter we eat and like because it is juicy contains from 12 to 16 per cent of plain water. If it contains a larger per cent than this the government calls it adulterated and proceeds against the manufacturers accordingly.

He is a very inconsistent school patron who buys ten dollar roosters for his flock of poultry, a $200 sire for his herd of cattle and yet who kicks on paying $40 a month for the services of a competent teacher for the district school.

Any farmer is justified in setting his dog on the lightning rod agent, the average fruit tree peddler, the book agent and the small boy from town with the gun. It is a debatable question perhaps whose calves out of the bunch ought to be chewed the harder.

For the novice in the horticultural business it is well to remember that it is more satisfactory all around as well as more profitable to set one or two varieties of apple trees of recognized hardiness and merit as to quality of fruit than to dabble in ten or fifteen varieties, which are quite likely to be well described by saying that they are good, bad and indifferent.

It is fair to assume that the man or woman who makes much of his or her religious profession and yet whose theories are not put into practice in the home life and relations has but a shoddy, veneer kind of religion after all. We once knew an old codger of this type who was piety personified in the prayer meeting, but who was that tight and mean that he treated his own kin in a more ungracious manner than he would the cur that licked his boots in the street. The good Lord discounts heavily all such counterfeit stuff as this.

One western municipality that the writer knows of has settled the tramp problem in a very effective yet simple manner. The aldermen of the town have passed an ordinance levying a fine on any person who feeds a tramp. Coupled with this, strict orders have been given to the residents requesting them to ring for a patrol wagon at once when a tramp stops and asks for food. If he is there on the arrival of the patrol he is taken to police headquarters, where he is given food and clothing, if necessary, but where he is made to work his board and lodging out on a city wood or stone pile. So well does this plan work that tramps shun the town as they would a pestilence.

In view of the stress which the federal government and many states are now laying on the matter of a preservation of the forests of the country, Arbor day should take on an added meaning with its interesting and patriotic observances. Not only should the thought of the day be put into actual practice by planting trees in the school yards to furnish shade and make them more attractive, but there should be instilled into the hearts of the pupils at an early date the important services which these trees rende. to man and the duty that rests upon all of so protecting trees and forests already growing and setting new trees that in future years the lumber and fuel supply of the country shall not utterly fail.

In the settlement of neighborhood differences or disputes arbitration is a much cheaper method than going to law and at the same time makes possible subsequent friendly relations which is a most important consideration.

Paint the picture as rosy as the representatives of the beet sugar factory are able, the fact remains that the corn farmer is prone to look askance at the proposition of descending from his riding cultivator and getting down on his marrowbones to weed and thin sugar beets which he is to sell for $5 per ton.

Saloons make business—yes, more for the saloon keeper, but less business and more bad debts for the butcher, baker, grocer, clothier, dry goods merchant and newspaper man. They make more business for the courts and jails and fewer comforts and conveniences and much less happiness for the town and country home.

The difference in the value of seed corn that will produce a yield of twenty-five bushels of corn per acre and that which will yield fifty bushels with no additional effort except that involved in husking is $87.50, this on the assumption that the twenty-five extra bushels of corn are worth $12.50 and that one bushel of corn will plant seven acres. This is a very easy conclusion to arrive at and one that every farmer should figure out with a lead pencil before he puts his corn into the ground this spring.

Every young woman who contemplates presiding over a home of her own should know how to cook well, to do plain sewing and understand the essential principles involved in an economical and intelligent management of her household. If in addition to these acquisitions she can play, sing, paint or draw she is just so much the better endowed. The average husband, whose heart is so often most effectively appealed to through his stomach, has difficulty in reconciling a soggy mess of biscuits or an india rubber pie crust with a finely executed musical classic from Wagner or an aesthetic home wrought panel of daisies or pansies.

In many states health laws impose a severe penalty for the selling of milk, cream or butter from cows which are known to be afflicted with tuberculosis. In states where no such laws exist the creamery manager and the individual dairymen should exercise every possible precaution with a view to locating and weeding out animals that may be sickly, and especially those that show symptoms of being afflicted with this disease. The use of the milk from such animals is a source of danger not only to the members of the family, but to all who partake of it. In such cases a state law ought not to be required to make one follow a course that would seem to be dictated by good horse sense.

As a result of bettter mechanical handling and treatment with preservative solutions previous to being laid, wood blocks are now being used for pavement and with very satisfactory results. The first wood blocks laid some fifty years ago were left cylindrical as cut and were not treated, the result being that the edges soon broke or wore off and the blocks rotted. Those laid recently, cut in rectangular shape and given a preservative treatment, are giving the best of satisfaction, surpassing any paving material but granite or sandstone in point of durability. It costs laid per square yard from $2.40 to $3.50 as compared with $3.50 for sandstone, $3.26 for granite, $2.30 for asphalt, $2.06 for brick and 90 cents for macadam. Blocks of Australian eucalyptus in use on the streest of London hasve lasted for fifteen years.

In the vicinity where the writer lives representatives of a foreign grocery house canvassed for supplies, and a bill of goods which one of their customers bought, which was later put on exhibition, contained several eye openers. One of these was the fact that the unsuspecting buyer had paid 98 cents per pound for a cheap tea that was not worth a cent more than 30. The same order included thirty pounds of soda at about the same price that it would sell for at the local grocery store, but there was enough of it to last for four or five years. The same bill of goods which the peddler asked $41 for could have been bought on tick at the local grocery for $32, and for $27.50 if cash had been paid, as it was to the peddler. The experience which these buyers had would seem to suggest the wisdom of at least giving the home merchant an opportunity to bid on a bill of goods before it is given to the representative of the foreign house.

SUGGESTIONS FOR DAIRYMEN.

In a pamphlet recently issued by the dairy division of the department of agriculture at Washington, entitled "Twenty Dairy Suggestions, With Special Reference to Sanitation," the following directions are given relative to the proper care of the dairy herd. They are much to the point and should be posted up in every cow stable in the land: (1) Have the herd examined at least twice a year by a skilled veterinarian, promptly removing any animals suspected of being in bad health. Never add an animal to the herd unless certain it is free from disease, particularly tuberculosis. (2) Never allow a cow to be excited by fast driving, abuse, loud talking or unnecessary disturbance. Do not expose her to cold or storms more than necessary. (3) Clean the entire body of the cow daily, while hair in the region of the udder should be kept short by clipping. (4) Do not allow any strong flavored food like garlic, cabbage or turnips to be eaten except immediately after milking. Changes in food should be made gradually. (5) Provide pure fresh water in abundance easy of access, but not too cold. Under the head of milking and handling of the milk the following suggestions are made: (1) Use no dry, dusty food just previous to milking. (2) The milker should wash his hands before milking and also see that the udder of the cow and surrounding parts are wiped with a clean damp cloth before he begins operations. (3) In milking he should be quiet, quicky, clean and thorough, commencing his milking at the same hour every morning and evening and milking the cows in the same order. (4) The milk should be carried to the milk room as fast as it accumulates and strained through cotton cloth and cooled at once to 50 degrees F. Warm milk should never be mixed with that which has already been cooled.

CATHOLIC BETROTHALS MUST BE IN WRITING.

New Rules Regulating Engagements and Marriages, is Now Effective.

The new rules regulating engagements and marriages of Catholics, became effective Sunday, Easter Sunday, and herafter Catholic sweethearts must make their betrothals in writing.

Catholic marriages by Protestant clergymen or a magistrate will be invalid.

Such marriages have always been punishable, but the church considered them binding.

They are not even that under the new Catholic law.

The revised betrothal and marriage rules was again read from every Catholic pulpit in the world on Easter Sunday and became effective at noon. Speaking of engagements they say:

Only those are considered valid which have been contracted in writing signed by both parties and by either the parish priest or the ordinary of the place or at least by two witnesses.

"Private engagements" are referred to as "an incitement to sin and causing the deception of inexperienced girls and afterward giving rise to inextricable dissentions and disputes."

Written engagements are not made absolutely obligatory but is specified that only such will be "considered valid and produce canonical effects."

"Only those marriages are valid," says the papal mandate, "which are contracted before the parish priest or by the ordinary of the place or by a priest designated by either of these and at least two witnesses.

"The marriage must be by and with the consent of the priest of the local parish in which either the bride or the bridegroom or both have lived for at least a month. If neither party has a fixed abode the marriage may not be performed at all except upon permission of the priest's superior.

"Elaborate provision is made for registration of marriage and severe ecclesiastical penalties are provided for priests who violate any of the rules.

"Regulations apply even to Catholics who are under excommunication or have left the church but not to those who are not nor have ever been members of the church."

REPUBLICAN COUNTY COMMITTEE ORGANIZED.

Chairman and Secretary Re-elected and Treasurer Chosen.

The first meeting of the Republican county committee under the new uniform primary law wes held Tuesday afternoon in court room No. 2. Only one-third of the 90 committeemen elected answered to their names; there were a half dozen substitutions.

Chairman W. J. McCabe called the meeting to order at 2 o'clock, and after the calling of the roll, asked for nominations for county chairman. Mr. McCabe was unanimously re-elected chairman, and A. B. McCraney was re-elected secretary for the ensuing year. Robert A. Myer was chosen treasurer of the committee.

Lester L. Pierce of Towanda, introduced the following resolution, which was adopted without dissent:

"Whereas, the exceedingly close contest over the nomination for senator in this senatorial district is liable to create disaffection and jeopardize the election of the nominee, therefore, be it

"Resolved, That we urge upon all Republicans the importance of withholding criticism until after the result is fully known, that we may present a united front to the common enemy, and we pledge the united support of the committee for the election of the Republican county, district and national ticket in November."

On motion, the chairman was instructed to have the recently revised party rules printed for distribution. Adjournment was then taken, the committee having been in session not to exceed 30 minutes.

NEW YORK FASHIONS

Pattern For Girl's Coat Designed by May Manton—No. 5813.

Long loose coats make most becoming wraps for growing girls and are to be noted in a variety of attractive colors and materials. This one is adapted to cheviots, homespuns and similar rough finished cloths and to the somewhat more dressy plain ones, but in this instance is made of copenhagen blue broadcloth, with black silk braid as a finish. The color is one of the new ones, and the braid is a feature of the season, so that the little coat is as smart a one as well could be found, but more sturdy, serviceable wraps are sure to be needed during the season, and mixtures and herringbone cheviots are in the height of style. Again, the coat allows a choice of full or three-quarter length. Buttons make a feature of present styles, and handsome ones are offered by the score.

The coat consists of fronts and backs and is closed by means of buttons and buttonholes. There is a flat collar at the neck, and roll over cuffs finish the sleeves. Patch pockets are arranged on the fronts and mean convenience and style. For shorter length the coat is cut off on indicated lines.

The quantity of material required for the medium size (twelve years) is 4¾ yards 27, 3¾ yards 44 or 3 yards 52 inches wide, with 2¾ yards of braid.

Sizes for girls of 8, 10, 12 and 14 years.

AUTO LEAPS BRIDGE.

Driver and Mechanicians of Racer Badly Hurt.

ON THE BRIARCLIFFE COURSE

Robertson and Assistants Were Speeding at Fifty Miles an Hour When Car Leaped Bridge Into a Ditch—One May Die.

Tarrytown, N. Y., April 21.—George Robertson, the automobilist and daredevil racer, was hurt and his two mechanicians, Charles Murray and James Weed, were badly injured when Robertson drove his machine off the bridge over Sawmill creek, near East View, while speeding at fifty miles an hour.

Robertson, in a Panhard car, whizzed out on the Westchester course, over which the race is to be run for the Briarcliff cup on Friday at 5 a. m. There were fourteen other cars on the course, and there were many races as each tried to "throw dust" into the eyes of the rivals.

Robertson had geared his car to fifty miles an hour and showed his heels to the others. The bridge over Sawmill river is a dangerous place for cars going even at an ordinary rate of speed. Only a daredevil would try to make speed at that point in the course. As Robertson went north there was a sharp turn to the right and immediately before he got to the bridge a turn to the left, forming almost a letter S.

Didn't Slacken Speed.

He approached the bridge without slacking speed. In the car with him were his mechanicians, both men of nerve, who have been with him on his speed tests before.

The car passed half over the bridge, swerved against the stone railing and leaped into the ditch.

With difficulty the wrecked machine was lifted from the men, and they were placed in an Allen-Kingston racer and hurried to the East View hospital, which is connected with the Tarrytown almshouse.

The hospital doctors found Robertson was the least injured of the three. He was suffering from shock and was bruised and cut.

Murray had many injuries about the head and body, and there are fears that he has internal hurts.

Weed will probably die. Both his legs are crushed and will probably have to be amputated. The doctors do not believe he will survive.

CANDIDATES MUST FILE EXPENSE BILL.

Heavy Penalty is Attached to Neglect to Comply With Statute.

The state authorities have announced that the corrupt practices act requires that every candiate for a nomination must file a statement of his expenses. It is stated that an impression seems to be abroad that only successful candidates are compelled to file statements, but the law is very explicit, saying that every person who was a candidate for a nomination must do so. These reports must be filed within 15 days of the primary.

There have been a number of inquiries made at the department of the secretary of the commonwealth about the law in the last few days, and the above is the gist of the replies sent. The department is preparing blanks for the filing of these expense accounts. There is a heavy penalty for disregard of the law, the fine limit being from $50 to $1,000 and imprisonment from one month to two years, or both, in the discretion of the court.

State and national candidates must file their expense accounts at the capitol. Those for other offices in the offices of the courts in their counties. Because of the numerous close contests there was much money spent and much interest has been aroused in some districts.

LIQUOR DEALERS BEING PROSECUTED.

Anti-Saloon League Detective Working in This Section.

The Law Enforcing department of the Anti-Saloon League of Pennsylvania, has commenced operations in Northern Pennsylvania. During the past few days six license holders in Dushore, two in Lopez and three in Towanda have been prosecuted.

C. L. Adams of the Scranton detective force has been in Towanda a couple of days and before 'Squire Meredith filed complaint against James Bennett, Edward Quigley and J. F. Keating, charging the violation of their licenses. Detective Hollon served the summons. All three will have hearing before 'Squire Meredith on Wednesday of this week.

The liquor dealers are of the opinion that it is simply a sort of blackmailing scheme from the fact that the complainants in such cases receive a portion of the fines, providing the license holder pleads guilty or is convicted. The license holders are very indignant and the chances are that they will make a fight for their rights, and if necessary carry the matter to the highest courts.

MAN'S BODY FOUND.

Remains of John McLaughlin Fonnd on Barclay Mountain.

MISSING THREE MONTHS

Believed to Have Fell or Jumped Over Precipice and Died From Injuries and Exposure—Worked on New Lehigh Bridge.

The decomposed body of John McLaughlin, a native of Scranton, was found on Barclay Mountain Friday morning. The horrible discovery was made by Thomas Alexander of Laquin, who was walking over the mountain to the old Barclay coal mines.

The body was found at the foot of a 35 foot precipice, and was laying with feet up the hill in a way to indicate that the man had either fell or pluged over the embankment, and had either been killed or died from injuries and exposure.

McLaughlin, who was about 35 years of age, came from Scranton to Towanda and was employed on the construction of the piers for the new Lehigh bridge at upper Towanda. He was a heavy drinker, and while here was taken into custody by the police on five different occasions. He went to Barclay on January 2, and secured employment in the mines operated by Randolph A. Smith of Towanda. He worked two days and one night, and the last seen of him was on the evening of January 5, when he was noticed sitting on the top of the embankment at the foot of which his dead body was found Friday. A fierce snow storm was raging at the time, and it turned in bitterly cold, and the supposition is that he either fell or jumped over the precipice to his death.

Coroner Says Suicide.

'Squire Schoonover, acting coroner, empanelled the following jury which viewed the remains and conducted an inquest: John Kline, William Donlin, Seymour Kelly, Jerry Deegan, Harry Griggs and Randolph A. Smith. After the inquest, the jury returned a verdict that John McLaughlin came to his death by his own hand.

This verdict seems plausible as McLaughlin had been acting strangely, and in his pocket was found a newspeper clipping, which said that it was more honorable for a man to take his own life than it was to suffer, be a burden to himself and his family and friends.

A number of receipts, and a bankbook on the Tradesmens' Trust company of New York, showing that he had $25 on deposit in that institution, and 75 cents in small change was also found in his pockets.

Body Brought to Towanda.

Clayton Maryott of Smith Brothers' undertaking establishment, went to Barclay and brought the remains to The body was badly decomposed, the face having been destroyed by animals. There were no marks or signs to indicate violence. Scranton authorities will be communicated with, in view of ascertaining whether or not he has relatives in that city.

The wildness and remoteness of the spot where McLaughlin met his death can be well imagined, by the fact that his body lay in the ravine for over three months before being found.

I. O. O. F. ENTERTAINMENT.

Children From Orphans' Home to Appear in Towanda.

In Hale's Opera House on Saturday evening, May 9, a company of children from the Odd Fellows' Orphan Home at Sunbury, will give an entertainment for the benefit of the building fund of the home. The company giving these entertainments is composed of 26 of the younger children, and they give a very delightful entertainment.

All Odd Feiolws in the state pay a per capita tax of 25 cents for the maintenance of the home, which now shelters 100 children, but this fund can be used for nothing but maintenance. There has recently been finished an administration building and dormitories at a cost of about $45,000. To meet this indebtedness the children have in the past year raised about $14,000 by their entertainments. On their recent appearance in Scranton $800 was cleared.

It is expected the Odd Fellows of Towanda and vicinity will do even better, numbers considered. Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Chubbuck of Orwell, are superintendent and matron of the Sunbury home.

REDMOND—FOX.

Former Towanda Young Lady Married in Brooklyn, N. Y.

The Daily Standard Union of Brooklyn, N. Y., in its issue of Saturday, April 11, gives the following account of the marriage of a former Towanda young lady:

"Samuel Gummere Redmond and Margaret Evans Fox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Evans Fox, of 80 Joralemon street, were married at noon today in the First Presbyterian church, Henry street, the Rev. Dr. L. Mason Clarke, pastor, performing the ceremony. The bride's costume was reseda green chiffon broadcloth, the waist of reseda green chiffon voile, trimmed with bands of the same shade of broadcloth, and the wrap, Japanese style, of heavily embroidered broadcloth. She wore a Leghorn hat, trimmed with roses and velvet. The maid of honor, Elizabeth Freeman Fox, a sister of the bride, wore brown pongee cloth, trimmed with Irish lace, collar and cuffs, and a black picture hat. William Redmond, a brother of the groom, was best man, and Joel Parker, Fred Parker, Lewis Hiler, and George Miller Fox, ushers. The bride's bouquet was of lilies of the valley, and the maid of honor's of marguerites, and the decorations palms, roses and carnations. Organist R. Huntington Woodman, of the First Presbyterian church, officiated during the service, which was followed by an informal reception in the church parlors, attended by a large number of city and suburban friends and some from a longer distance, and by a wedding breakfast for the bridal party at the Assembly, Pierrepont street. The groom presented the ushers with pearl set scarfpins."

ROMANTIC MARRIAGE.

Old Sweethearts Meet on a Train, Love Again, and Wed in Towanda.

Eli DeWitt and Mary Schriner were united in the holy bonds of matrimony in Towanda yesterday afternoon, and thereby hangs a litle story as romantic as ever was found between the covers of a "best seller."

Years ago, Eli DeWitt, then a handsome youth, loved pretty Mary Schriner and for a long time he called on her at her parents' home in the lower part of the state. One day they quarreled, and he being of a stubborn disposition, and she, girllike, too proud to give in, they separated and passed out of each other's life.

In after years he married, and she likewise, and the old flames went out, it seemed forever. Yesterday they met on a Lehigh passenger train, handshakes and a joyful reunion being held for a few minutes. As the train approached the East Towanda station, Eli learned that Mary was a widow, her husband having been dead for several years, and Mary learned that Eli was a widower, his wife having passed over a couple of years ago.

The old difficulty was straightened out, Eli proposed and Mary accepted with the result that they left the train at Towanda, and half an hour later were man and wife. 'Squire Meredith performed the ceremony in his emporium of justice, and it is doubtful if a happier couple ever looked for and found connubial bliss in Towanda. They went from the "City of Promise" to Hillsgrove, Sullivan county, where they will make their home.

Wound up on a shaft, which he tried to oil Thursday morning, at the mill of E. Matson, on Marsh creek, four miles West of Wellsboro, death came suddenly to John Hasker. It was the old story of his clothing catching in the belting and carrying him to destruction. He was about 40 years old and is survived by his widow and three children.

Priest Stays Altar Fire.

A lighted candle fell blazing on the altar cloths in Our Lady of Mount Carmel Catholic church, at Pittston, at high mass, Holy Thursday morning, and the beautiful church was saved from destruction only by the heroic work of Father Gislon, who beat out the flames with bare hands. The priest's vestments were also ignited, and he was saved by members of the congregation. His hands were painfully burned.

HARBOT RELEASED.

Former Barclay Township Tax Collector is Out of Jail.

BONDSMEN ARE SATISFIED

Relatives and Friends Came to the Rescue, Adjusted and Settled All Claims and Case Has Been Nolle Prossed.

D. DeWitt Harbot of Laquin, the young man who has been in jail for the past three weeks charged with embezzling $2,600 belonging to Barclay township, which he failed to account for after collecting the amount in taxes, was released on Saturday, and is now free with no danger of further punishment.

Harbot, it will be remembered, was S. & N. Y. station agent at Laquin. Two years ago he was elected tax collector of Barclay township, an office which he held until a few weeks ago when a shortage of about $2,600 was discovered in his accounts, and his arrest was caused by his bondsmen. His accounts as station agent, and express agent were also found to be short over a thousand dollars. An effort was made by his relatives and friends to raise the amount of the shortage, and for a time the attempt seemed hopeless, but they kept at it and on Saturday had succeeded in satisfying the bondsmen and other claimants to the effect that the case was nolle prossed and an order issued to Sheriff Griffin for the release of Harbot from the county jail.

Harbot's bondsmen who were his security as tax collectors, each donated $150 making the tatal of $600, and the friends and relatives raised the rest of the amount. Harbot had some money of his own which together with personal property, and the assistance of relatives and friends, the New York bonding company which was his security as station and express agent, settled for $700, about two thirds of their claim.

Harbot was in deep water, and faced a long term of imprisonment, from which he has been saved by the loyalty of friends and the never failing love of his parents.

SAD WEDDING DAY.

Mother Died Suddenly While Son Was in Towanda to Wed.

Daniel F. Wells, a well known and prominent young man of New Era, and Miss Sarah Brown, an estimable New Albany young lady, came to Towanda Saturday to join hearts and hands in matrimony, but their happiness was marred by the announcement of the death of Mr. Wells' mother, received on their arrival in Towanda.

The happy young people left home Saturday morning with not a cloud to darken the brightness of their wedding day. When they reached Towanda and entered the office of the register and recorder, Mr. Wells was informed that his father at New Era wished to talk with him over the phone. The groom to be called his father, and was informed that his mother had died suddenly since he left home. The young people were deeply affected, and with tear bedimmed eyes and voices choking with emotion answered the questions asked by the marriage license clerk.

Securing their license, they hurried to the Methodist Episcopal parsonage, were joined in holy wedlock by Rev. Dr. Houghton, and instead of the wedding journey which they had planned on, they started on the return trip home.

TREE FRAUD UNEARTHED.

Man Who Joskered Tioga County Farmers Comes to Grief.

Through agents of the state a tree shark, who victimized farmers and fruit growers in neighboring Tioga county to the amount of over $300 last season, has been run down. He has been located at Mill Hall, Clinton county, and will be prosecuted by State Economic Zoologist Surface.

The swindler told the farmers of Tioga county that he had trees grated on oaks which were called "iron clad" and which were warranted to withstand the attack of pests. This is the first time any such fraud has ever been worked in this state.

Rivet Heaters Strike.

Eleven of the sixteen rivet heaters working in the Lehigh shops at Sayre, went out on strike Monday at noon. Five of the boys decided to remain at work, and they are still on the job. The eleven went out at noon and did not return to work again in the afternoon. This will in a measure cripple the boiler work further, as they are a necessary part of the business of boilermaking.

McMahon Boys Taken to Owego.

Sheriff Burke of Tioga county, N. Y., was in Towanda yesterday with requisition papers for the McMahon boys of South Waverly, who were recently arrested and brought to Towanda. They are wanted in New York state to answer to the charge of assault in the second degree which is a very serious offense.

LEHIGH VALLEY'S STOCK IS TO BE SOLD OUT.

Black Diamond System May Become an Independent Line.

The Elmira Star-Gazette is authority for the statement that "a syndicate of bankers has made to the directors of the Lake Shore railroad an offer which, if accepted, may result in the release of the Lehigh Valley from control by Eastern lines and its operation as an independent system.

"The offer has not yet been laid formally before the Lake Shore or New York Central directors and the bankers have no intimation from the management of these companies as to the probable disposition of the proposition. Their only reason for believing that the offer will be accepted is based on a consideration of the general situation as affecting Lehigh Valley.

"The Lake Shore, Erie, Jersey Central, Reading and Lackawanna acquired large holdings of Lehigh Valley stock at the time the community of interest idea was most in favor The purchases were made for the purpose preventing rate wars.

"The Lake Shore holdings are now of the par value of $5,700,000, far greater than those of any of the other purchasers. Other roads bought stock in approximately the following amounts: Erie, $1,000,000; Jersey Central $1,700,000; Reading, $1,000,000; Lackawanna, $1,000,000. The aggregate of $10,300,000 amounted to more than 25 per cent. of the autstanding Lehigh Valley stock.

"The railroad rate bill lessened the chances of rate wars and the prime object of holding control in the Lehigh Valley has thus been nullified. Within the last few months the Erie has disposed of its holdings on the market, but as far as known, the other roads hold as much stock as at any time in the past. The Erie realized a substantial profit on its investment and it was said that acceptance of the bankers' offer would permit the Lake Shore to go out with a profit of 70 per cent."

The suit of Ira Smith vs. A. B. VanGorder both of Sheshequin, was heard before Justice of the Peace H. F. Johnson in Athens Saturday morning, Attorney L. T. Hoyt represented the plaintiff and Attorney Charles Mills the defense. As near as can be determined from the testimony Smith and VanGorder traded farms a year ago last fall. VanGorder left ten cows on the place and Smith was to give $1,000 to boot. The suit so far as the cows were concerned referred to the sum for their keep from January to May, but there is another matter concerned, relating to a quantity of hay which Smith claims to have paid VanGorder $40 for and which he never got.
